TFN PLACEMAKING PROJECT: TFN NEEDS NATURE INSPIRED TFN PHOTOS!

A pilot project of the TFN placemaking initiative is considering wrapping some existing utility boxes within the Members Priority Area. If you have any photos that show the nature, landscape, history around TFN lands, please email them to Andrea Jacobs at ajacobs@tsawwassenfirstnation.com before Monday, September 28, 2020.

The Placemaking initiative has been recognized as a legacy project to create a unique identity for TFN lands. The placemaking themes can be broadly categorized into banners, streetscape furnishings, public transit shelters, signage, murals, playgrounds, parks, public art, gateways, vinyl wraps that can be applied on utility boxes, lamp standards, recycling bins, industrial containers, metal railings, signage structures and other architectural forms.

On May 05, 2020 EC approved awarding a contract to Eric Robertson as the "Art Consultant" leading the background work for this project.

Phase 1, completed by the Consultant consists of background research of various existing placemaking ideas, concepts, which is a visual compilation of material, gathered on-sites and online with most images documented on Vancouver Island, within the Coast Salish traditional territory, produced by indigenous artists and informed by Coast Salish themes.

Phase 2 of this project has begun. So far, we have connected with TFN Youth, Elders through Zoom meeting and with the Advisory Council through Zoom meeting, to share some existing placemaking examples. We have also emailed and mailed surveys to all members on and off lands seek your input and understand what placemaking on TFN lands means to you. Please email back completed surveys to kpatel@tsawwassenfirstnation.com before September 30, 2020. Your ideas on what Placemaking means for TFN lands is very important!!!

Phase 3 will involve the Art Consultant working collaboratively with a list of resident artists on various components of placemaking. If you would like to be included in the list of resident artists, please email Andrea Jacobs at ajacobs@tsawwassenfirstnation.com before September 30, 2020.

THANK YOU!

COVID-19 TFN SURVEY

During the month of August 2020, the Policy, Intergovernmental Affairs and Government Services department (PIGA/GS) conducted a COVID-19 Support Survey upon request from Executive Council. The objective of the survey was to get a better understanding of how COVID-19 has affected Tsawwassen Members. In addition, we wanted to understand how the Tsawwassen Government can best support Members during the pandemic.

WHO WE'VE HEARD FROM

22% of Members
19 years and over provided their input into this survey

41% on-Lands Members
35% off-Lands in Canada
24% off-Lands in the U.S.

Close to 49%
of the respondents
have had a reduction in income since the outbreak of COVID-19

62%
of Members are a bit worried or very worried that a family member may contract COVID-19

65%
of the respondents say that COVID-19 has made it more difficult to connect with family and friends

32% Identify as Men
68% Identify as Women

74%
Almost three quarters of the respondents say that COVID-19 has reduced their ability to participate in cultural and spiritual ceremonies or wellness activities.

MEMBERS WITH YOUNG CHILDREN ARE STRUGGLING...

- Limits to the activities that are available to their children
- Difficult to keep children busy
- No access to childcare
- Isolation and the lack of normalcy
- No programs for younger children

MEMBERS APPRECIATE...

- Distribution of iPads to all school-aged children
- The employment program for TFN youth
- The Food Stability Program has been very helpful

COVID-19 TFN SURVEY

"HAS THE ISOLATION HAD A NEGATIVE IMPACT ON YOUR MENTAL HEALTH?"

29% of the respondents experience anxiety related to COVID-19 all the time

44% that answer sometimes

That's a combined total of 73% respondents that experience anxiety related to COVID-19

THANK YOU TO THOSE WHO PARTICIPATED IN OUR COVID-19 SURVEY

We've heard all of you, and we are using these results to inform our next steps

WE ARE HERE TO SUPPORT YOU & YOU ARE NOT ALONE

Natural Resources Update

YOUR NATURAL RESOURCES DEPARTMENT WEEKLY UPDATE FOR SEPTEMBER 24 - SEPTEMBER 30

Crab tank:

A note to TFN Crabbers there is space in the crab tank to accept new submissions. We ask that you contact any of our team during office ours to arrange drop off.

Welcome to New Staff:

TFN Natural Resources Department would like to welcome Curtis Tyson. Curtis is our new department technician, who will be assisting with day to day aspects of the department as well as more specialized work that the department undertakes throughout the year. We look forward to working with you Curtis and our hands go up to you.

Freezer Burnt Fish:

Do you have any freezer burnt fish taking up space in your freezer that you would like to clear out? Please contact Kyle Flindt at 604-230-7174, to plan. We will collect your fish and take it to donate to OWL Rehabilitation on behalf of TFN.

Invasive Green Crab Trapping and Monitoring:

An introduced species, the European Green Crab has been spotted in Boundary Bay, and there is concern regarding its potential transfer to the Roberts Bank and TFN foreshore area. The European Green Crab poses a risk to resident species and native eel grass.

TFN staff were out doing trapping this past week in the first month of what hopes to be a sustained effort to locate, trap and mitigate this potential threat. So far none of have been located and we will provide follow up updates in future months to come.

Please see following pages regarding identification and process for notification procedures.

INVASIVE SPECIES ALERT!

There are many types of crabs that are green in colour, but only the European Green Crab has 5 spines.

BC's diverse and productive salt marshes and estuaries now face a potentially destructive invader. The European Green Crab (Carcinus maenas) is considered one of the world's worst invasive species. It can alter shoreline ecosystems and negatively impact economically and culturally important species and habitats including eelgrass beds that provide food and cover for juvenile salmon.

Natural Resources Update

How to identify European Green Crabs:

- > 5 spines (or marginal teeth) to the outside of each eye
- > Up to 10 cm across the carapace (or back shell)
- > Wider at front than back of the carapace
- > Although often referred to as “green crab,” color is not its distinguishing feature. The actual color can vary from dark mottled green to orange.

Biology and preferred habitats

European Green Crabs prefer sheltered areas such as lagoons, braided estuarine channels, and bays with saltmarsh or eelgrass vegetation. The preferred substrate is mud/sand however there are instances in BC where the Green Crabs have been found on gravel beaches. Preferred prey is bivalves, small crabs, and polychaete worms. Green Crabs can negatively affect eelgrass beds in search of prey items.

Not to be confused with our native crabs:

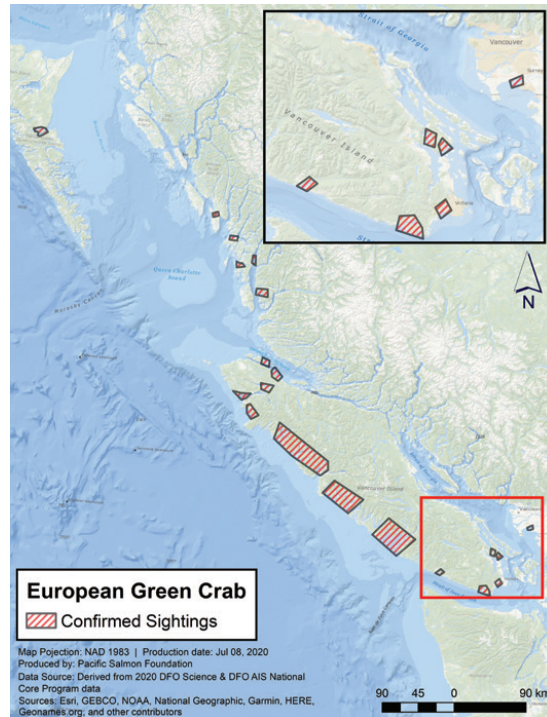

Kelp Crab

Hairy Helmet Crab

Hairy Shore Crab

DFO Pacific Region AIS Program is currently partnering with the Pacific Salmon Foundation to provide up-to-date maps, links to education and outreach materials and background on the DFO Salish Sea Early Detection Monitoring Network.

The Pacific Salmon Foundation has a keen interest in the European Green Crabs as this invasive species has the potential to adversely impact eelgrass beds. Eelgrass beds are critical habitat for rearing salmonids.

To see the most current confirmed sightings map and for more information on the DFO European Green Crab Monitoring Network go to: www.sogdatacentre.ca/biota/aquatic-invasive-species

For additional information regarding the invasive European Green Crab and other marine Aquatic Invasive Species visit the DFO website www.dfo-mpo.gc.ca/species-especes/ais-eae/index-eng.html

What can you do?

REPORT – If you think you have found a European Green Crab, please email a photo, date of observation and the location to: AISPACIFIC@DFO-MPO.GC.CA

Help stop the spread of invasive species

Please ensure you are not transporting the European Green Crab from one area to another by remembering to practice:

JOINT STATEMENT ON PROVINCE OF B.C.'S COVID-19 RESPONSE, LATEST UPDATES

Dr. Bonnie Henry, B.C.'s provincial health officer, and Stephen Brown, deputy minister of health, have issued the following joint statement regarding updates on the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) response in British Columbia:

"Today, we are announcing 96 new cases, including seven epidemiologically linked cases, for a total of 8,304 cases in British Columbia.

"There are 1,465 active cases of COVID-19 in the province, 3,314 people who are under active public health monitoring as a result of identified exposure to known cases and 6,589 people who tested positive have recovered.

"Currently, 61 individuals are hospitalized with COVID-19, 22 of whom are in intensive care. The remaining people are recovering at home in self-isolation.

"Since the start of the pandemic, there have been 2,984 cases of COVID-19 in the Vancouver Coastal Health region, 4,254 in the Fraser Health region, 203 in the Island Health region, 511 in the Interior Health region, 266 in the Northern Health region and 86 cases of people who reside outside of Canada.

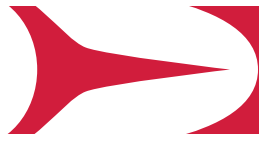

"There have been no new COVID-19 related deaths, for a total of 227 deaths in British Columbia. We offer our condolences to everyone who has lost their loved ones during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"There has been an outbreak in one unit at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver. In total, 12 long-term care or assisted-living facilities and four acute-care facilities have active outbreaks.

"There have been no new community outbreaks, although there continue to be community exposure events.

"Public alerts and school notifications are posted on the BC Centre for Disease Control's (BCCDC) website, as well as on health authorities' websites, providing details on where the potential exposure occurred and what actions to take – whether to self-isolate or monitor for symptoms.

"The start of fall is the time for all of us to regroup and reset our COVID-19 routines, and ready ourselves for the colder, wetter months ahead.

Community Submissions

"As we move inside, the activities we choose to do and the layers of protection we use need to be adjusted to ensure we are protecting ourselves, our friends and family – especially those who are most vulnerable to severe illness.

"This means spending less time with others outside of our household bubble right now.

"We need to push our COVID-19 curve back down and keep the virus low and slow, so we can manage the many challenges that will come with the respiratory season."

Quick Facts:

Assisted living, long-term care homes and seniors' rental buildings with ongoing COVID-19 outbreaks are as follows:

Vancouver Coastal Health

- OPAL by Element assisted-living facility
- Point Grey Private Hospital long-term care facility
- Yaletown House long-term care facility

Fraser Health

ORANGE SHIRT DAY 2020

Orange Shirt Day is a legacy of the St. Joseph Mission (SJM) residential school commemoration event held in Williams Lake, BC, Canada, in the spring of 2013. It grew out of Phyllis' story of having her shiny new orange shirt taken away on her first day of school at the Mission, and it has become an opportunity to keep the discussion on all aspects of residential schools happening annually.

The date was chosen because it is the time of year in which children were taken from their homes to residential schools, and because it is an opportunity to set the stage for anti-racism and anti-bullying policies for the coming school year. It also gives teachers time to plan events that will include children, as we want to ensure that we are passing the story and learning on to the next generations.

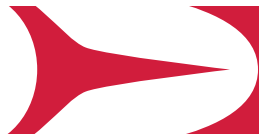

Orange Shirt Day is also an opportunity for First Nations, local governments, schools and communities to come together in the spirit of reconciliation and hope for generations of children to come.

Contact Andrea Jacobs for shirt pick up if you need an orange shirt on Tuesday, September 29th after 3:00pm but please call first to provide sizes at 604-928-0879 or email ajacobs@tsawwassenfirstnation.com

Take a photo with your Orange Shirt on and send it into us if you'd like it posted in the October 8th Community Newsletter! Just remember that if you're taking photos with family and friends, to please wear masks or physically distance. Because we don't know who is in everyone's bubble, we want to make sure everyone feels safe and to not encourage social gatherings.

Send your photos wearing your Orange Shirt to communications@tsawwassenfirstnation.com

Call ahead to get your T-shirt size in!

Talking about Stigma and Substance Use

Decolonizing Substance Use & Addiction | Len Pierre | TEDxSFU

A talk that explores the origins of addiction and substance use through an indigenous lens. To shed some light on today's overdose crisis in British Columbia, Len takes us through the missing context of indigenous peoples and discusses ongoing challenges that limit progress. Understanding how all of these pieces fit together is a critical step to decolonizing and creating lasting solutions to this community wide challenge.

On April 14, 2016, B.C.'s provincial health officer declared a public health emergency under the Public Health Act due to the significant rise in overdose deaths reported in B.C.

This emergency continues into 2020, and has been further complicated by a second public health emergency declared March 17, 2020, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

During these dual public health crises, nurses are working in new ways with other health care providers, first responders, service groups, non-profit organizations, volunteers and others to provide care

Perinatal Substance Use online training is launched and available. The training provides a foundation for evidence-based, woman-centred, trauma-informed, and culturally-safe care for women and infants affected by substance use as well as foundational learning for Eat Sleep Console - the nonpharmacological management of Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome.

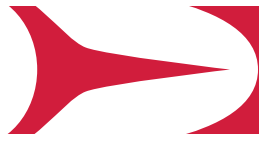

You can find the course at <https://ubccpd.ca/course/perinatal-substance-use>

Developing Personal Wellness

This is an online, closed group program offered by Tsow-Tun Le Lum to support our people and communities during the current COVID-19 restrictions.

Developing Personal Wellness is a 3-week program. The group meets every week from Tuesday to Friday, for two hours each day. (1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.)

The program introduces healthy coping skills to support individuals in their recovery. Some of the areas we will explore are:

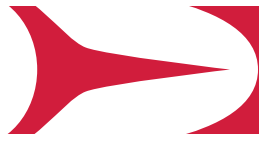

- Self-Care
- Grounding
- Mindfulness Practices
- Setting Healthy Boundaries
- Identifying Personal Triggers
- Elders' Teachings.

* Individual counselling is available upon request

* Consent and commitment are required to participate

* A signed Confidentiality Agreement is required to participate
