INVASIVE SPECIES UPDATE: EUROPEAN GREEN CRAB TRAPPING EFFORTS

During our October trapping efforts, TFN captured 10 European green crabs along the breakwater pathway at the dike, just under the blue bridge. Despite their name, these invasive crabs can range in color from dark mottled green to orange, which can make them difficult to identify.

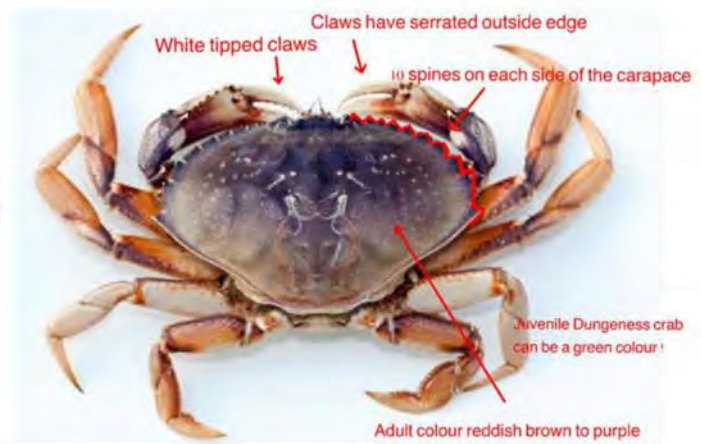

Here's how to spot a European green crab:

- Look for five spines or “teeth” on the outside of each eye.
- Size: They can grow up to 10 cm across their carapace, which is wider in the front than the back.

Invasive
European Green Crab
Carcinus maenas

Native Look-a-likes
Dungeness Crab
Metacarcinus magister

European green crabs pose a serious threat to our local ecosystem by preying on native shellfish and outcompeting local species. That's why our ongoing trapping efforts are vital to protecting the health of our coastal habitats.

If you think you've spotted a European green crab, please report it to the Natural Resources Department at: rlau@tsawwassenfirstnation.com or (604) 968-8935

New volunteer with the Enforcement and Compliance team

Emy comes from a background as a Graphic Designer and Digital Creator, but she has developed a strong passion for law enforcement. She loves the Tsawwassen area and eager to learn more about First Nation land and culture. Volunteering with TFN Compliance and Enforcement felt like the perfect way to connect with the community and build on her understandings of law enforcement.

DR. SHELLY JETZER WILL BE AWAY from Thursday, November 14th to Wednesday, November 20th, 2024.

She will be back at TFN on Thursday, November 21st. During this time, if you need assistance or have any urgent matters, please connect with primary care or emergency.

Breathing Tsawwassen Identity into the TFN Evaluation Project

Help select a project name!

The Evaluation Project is a community-driven and directed project that looks at Members experiences of community changes both before and after the treaty, how community dynamics might have also changed over time, and whether the TFN government is effectively representing and responding to community needs. The Project will be shaped by the voices of Tsawwassen Members and should reflect Tsawwassen Values, Culture, and Identity.

Members can vote online to give a hənqəmínəm name to this initiative. The results so far:

New Community-Based Research Initiatives

In response to requests from Members, the Policy and Intergovernmental Affairs Department (“PIGA”) is leading a community-driven and directed project that looks at Members experiences of community changes both before and after the treaty, how community dynamics might have also changed over time, and whether the TFN government is effectively representing and responding to community needs.

This three-part initiative is rooted in Tsawwassen Knowledge and Indigenous Research and will include a:

- 1) Tsawwassen Community-based Research Project,
- 2) Tsawwassen Member Census, and a
- 3) Youth Photovoice & Multimedia Project.

Tsawwassen Community-based Qualitative Research Project & Tsawwassen Member Census

Planned to start in early 2025, TFN is partnering with Dr. Brian Thom at the University of Victoria for both the Tsawwassen Community-based Research Project and the Tsawwassen Member Census. Dr. Thom brings important experience in conducting similar projects, including negotiating, implementing, and evaluating treaties. Dr. Thom has worked for Sto:lo Nation, the Hul'qumi'num Treaty Group, Cowichan Tribes, and WSANEC communities, among others, to further reconciliation and community engaged research, implement Indigenous legal orders, and to Indigenize government strategies and plans.

The community-based component of this project will consist of individual, group, or family meetings in which Members will have the opportunity to share knowledge, stories, and thoughts on priorities that support community wellbeing and involvement. Examples of such priorities could include health and wellness, food systems, economic and business opportunities, cultural learning, and more. The Tsawwassen Member Census will provide additional important demographic information that can be used to develop programs and services.

Breathing Tsawwassen Identity into the TFN Evaluation Project

The Evaluation Project is a Member-driven project that will be shaped by the voices of Tsawwassen Members and should reflect Tsawwassen Values, culture, and identity. We invite Members to give a hən'qəmin'em' name to this initiative.

An Evaluation Project Booth was available at the 2024 Member's Gathering, where Members had the opportunity to share their preferences for potential project names that resonated with them.

For those who were unable to participate during the Member's Gathering, staff warmly encourage you to share your input by using the QR code below. You can submit your preference until November 15th, 2024.

For more information or to submit inquiries on these projects please contact Sophie Thomas at stomas@tsawwassenfirstnation.com or by phone at (604) 817-7412.

Youth Photovoice and Multi-Media Project

The TFN Youth Photovoice and Multi-Media Project is a youth focused component of the TFN Evaluation Project (still to be given a Member-chosen hən'qəminəm' name).

Partnering with Dr. Onyx Sloan Morgan from the University of British Columbia Okanagan, the TFN Youth Photovoice and Multi-Media Project supports TFN youth in using photography, film-making and other mediums to amplify their voices on matters important to them with the goal of allowing youth to influence policy and good governance.

Dr. Sloan Morgan is widely regarded as a highly respected and influential voice on the use of photovoice for youth engagement in British Columbia and comes with significant experience including research focusing on the negotiation and now implementation of the Maa-nulth Treaty for huuɫiiʔaṭh (Huu-ay-aht). Dr. Sloan Morgan has been actively engaged in a Youth Photovoice project with huuɫiiʔaṭh for the past 13 years, bringing their experience from that project to other Indigenous communities in the province to create unique culturally and age-appropriate photovoice and multimedia programs.

The Youth Photovoice Project will also provide TFN youth with:

- Opportunities for skills development and training in areas such as photography, film-making and sound recording,
- Volunteer credits to go towards high school graduation,
- Reference letters to support employment,
- Opportunities to create and connect,
- and more.

TFN Youth aged 13-30 are invited to participate in this important research initiative, which will be made available for Members living across Tsawwassen Traditional Territory and beyond. More information to come.

For more information or to submit inquiries on these projects please contact Sophie Thomas at stthomas@tsawwassenfirstnation.com or by phone at (604) 817-7412.

Project: Truck Access / Egress at 4449 Salish Sea Way, Tsawwassen, BC

Dear Residents:

Beedie Construction is constructing a new industrial development at 4449 Salish Sea Way, Tsawwassen BC just west of the Sewage Treatment Plant. As construction on the building begins there will be heavy truck traffic coming and leaving our site due to concrete pours, import materials & deliveries. This escalated level of traffic will take place from September 23, 2024 to mid-February 2025. Working hours will be from 7am to 5pm. We will implement TMP #DWG#001 for the duration of this scope.

Please refer to the attached TMP for this work.

Vehicle traffic to adhere to traffic controllers.

Residents are also reminded that the project will be constructed with heavy earthmoving machinery and that young children and pets should be kept clear of work zones.

If you have any questions, please contact Anand Budwal via the undersigned.

We appreciate your ongoing cooperation.

Regards,

Anand Budwal

We are seeking all types of art from TFN Member Artists. All art will be a donation or a gift from the Tsawwassen First Nation Chief and Council.

The art should have a description and artist biography to accompany the art piece, submitted by the artist.

If you are interested in TFN purchasing your artwork, please make an appointment with Maryanne Adams or Andrea Jacobs at 604-943-2112 for your artwork to be considered.
