What are the real solutions to old-growth logging?

June 17, 2021 - 3:00 PM via Zoom

Join The Narwhal's B.C. investigative reporter Sarah Cox in conversation with Garry Merkel, co-chair of B.C.'s strategic old-growth review panel. The provincial government promised over a year ago to implement all 14 recommendations issued by the panel, which called for a "paradigm shift" in B.C.'s forestry policy, but has yet to do so. REGISTER HERE

Who We Are Indigenous Film Series

June 21 to July 4 on VIFF Connect

Co-presented by Museum of Vancouver (MOV) and Vancouver International Film Festival (VIFF)

About the Who We Are series

The Who We Are film series, co-hosted by MOV and VIFF, is an Indigenous film series featuring works representative of a diversity of voices. Selected by a jury of Indigenous curators, these films portray Indigenous characters with humour, agency and grit. The films in this series challenge pervasive stereotypes of Indigeneity by showcasing a diversity of Indigenous experiences - whether they are framed as traditional or contemporary, speak to gender equality and sexuality, or are based in urban or residential settings, and all showcase Indigeneity in an equally authentic manner.

For more information and ticket/passes, visit <http://goviff.org/who-we-are-series>.
The Who We Are series pass and tickets are free to Indigenous Peoples.
